Dear Mr. Ross,

Thank you for your generous contribution of time in leading a drama workshop for the students of the Scarborough Campus at the University of Toronto. Although the attendance was not large, those participating certainly found the experience most worthwhile.

Artsweek is an important event for the Metropolitan Toronto community. Celebrating the arts and sharing our artistic knowledge and experiences is a necessary component to promote growth and goodwill. Your willingness to participate and share your knowledge is a tribute to your commitment to the artistic process.

I have passed on your offer to conduct future workshops to the Drama Club. They will contact you directed if such an occasion develops. It was a delight to meet you and I wish you all the best in your future projects.

Sincerely,
